MGT 6042Y - BUSINESS Languages (German/Spanish/Portuguese/Mandarin)

It is believed that one major facilitating factor in the mobility of employees when carrying out international business assignments is the ability to master a foreign language. Such a module will contribute to giving our students a competitive edge in the job market and on the international scene.

This module carries 3 credits, which are earned through examinations and full participation in in-class continuous assessment such as oral tests and presentations as well as attendance and participation in seminar activities from students. Introductory sessions will be held to provide necessary orientation.

Availability of each language offered will be based on critical demand from students and
