Postgraduate Certificate in Digital Teaching and Learning (Part-Time)

Online Mode

Educational institutions are increasingly adopting new learning technologies in the classroom to meet the needs of twenty-first century students and COVID-19 has certainly accelerated the process of technology-adoption. It has also been observed that academics and educators were at varying levels of preparedness with regards to technology integration.

In this context, the University of Mauritius, through the Centre for Innovative and Lifelong Learning, is pleased to announce the launching of an innovative programme to expose academic staff/educators to concepts and tools that they can deploy for online/blended learning and for effective remote teaching. These tools and concepts will ensure that they have the pedagogical grounding that will ensure adaptability to any mode of delivery, from face to face to online learning.

Learning Outcomes:

Upon completion of this programme, learners should be able to:

- Evaluate one's position with regards to growth mindset and activity-based teaching and learning;
- Cultivate a growth mindset for life-long learning;
- Differentiate between online, blended, remote teaching;
- Reflect critically on how technology changes the nature of knowledge and teaching and learning;
- Adopt learner-centred and care-centric approach when designing courses;
- Design authentic and effective online assessments for learning;
- Develop a prototype of a course using the following concepts and principles:
 - Novel e-learning tools and technologies;
