3rd Lecture
TITLE: Sustainable Blue Economy: toward harmonized co-existence of human and nature
LECTURER: Mr. SUGIYAMA Shunji, JICA Senior Advisor
LECTURE OUTLINE: The lecture starts with brief review of the concept of Blue Economy and its importance. In the Indian ocean countries, fisheries sector plays a key role in supporting livelihoods of coastal communities, however, deteriorated coastal environment and depleted aquatic resources poses a serious threat to the sustainability of such important economic activities. How can we secure economic benefits from the ocean while we maintain healthy coastal environment/ecosystems? Reference is made to Japanese experiences on achieving harmonized co-existence of human and nature through co-management of coastal resources, proactive rehabilitation of ecosystems, and diversification of resources use.
