

The Department of French Studies

has the pleasure to invite you to the public lecture

« Why, when, where and how languages become endangered »

By Prof. Dany Adone
from the University of Cologne,
Germany

Thursday 25th April 2024
10:30 - 11:30

RBLT, University of Mauritius

About the speaker

Dany Adone is Director of Language Lab, Chair of Applied English Linguistics and Co-Director of the Centre for Australian Studies at the University of Cologne

She has also been President of the Society for Creole & Pidgin Languages

Her research interest include:

- Environmental Justice
- Environment and Language
- Indigenous Sign Languages in Australia
- Language Contact and
- First Language Acquisition (Focus on Creole languages)