

BSc (Hons) Banking and Finance - LM305

1. Context and Objectives

This Programme is designed for those students seeking to embark on a career in the banking or financial services sector. Students will be provided with a sound theoretical and practical knowledge and skills base which are prerequisites to successfully embark on a career in the banking sector or within the larger finance environment. In addition, it will provide a stepping stone to students who are interested in enrolling on professionally recognised qualifications such as the Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA) programme. This programme therefore provides an array of fundamentals skills spanning banking, finance, accounting, management, communication and decision making relevant to the needs of industry.

2. Learning Outcomes

The main learning outcomes are as follows, whereby students are expected to:

- Acquire the knowledge to communicate effectively both orally and in writing;
- Acquire and apply knowledge of banking, finance and accounting concepts and principles as well as the legal and ethical environment affecting banking and business sectors;
- Develop the ability to engage in critical thinking when analysing situations and proposing solutions;
- Demonstrate the ability to work effectively both individually and as team members;
- Acquire knowledge on theories and models, techniques and practices that are used in the context of banking and finance; and
- Acquire knowledge on any new or current issues that are important to the Programme of study and students seeking to embark on a career in banking or finance.

3. Teaching and Learning Methods

The Programme consists of a combination of teaching, self -study and other learning activities which altogether promote independent learning, critical thinking and above all nurtures student-centric learning across both semester and yearly modules. Teaching methods may include face to face lectures, online delivery, tutorials or practical sessions. Other learning activities can be wide-ranging and may include, amongst others, assignments, class tests, group work, presentations, guest lectures and fieldwork.

A typical semester module will carry 6 LCCS Credits which represent 180 notional learning hours broken down as follows: 30 hours of teaching, 60 hours of self-study and 90 hours of other learning activities.

A typical yearly module will carry 12 LCCS Credits which represent 360 notional hours broken down as follows: 60 hours of teaching, 120 hours of self-study and 180 hours of other learning activities.

7. Assessment and Deadlines

Each module will be assessed over 100 marks (i.e. expressed as %) with details as follows (unless otherwise specified).

Each module will carry 100 marks and will be assessed as follows (unless otherwise specified):

Assessment will be based on a written examination of 2-hour (for a semester module) or 3-hour (for a yearly module) duration and continuous assessment carrying a range of 40% to 50% of total marks.

For a student to pass a module, an overall total of 40% for combined continuous assessment and written examination components would be required without minimum thresholds within the individual continuous assessment and written examination.

Most modules in the structure are yearly modules which are taught over a period of two semesters but examined at the end of the second semester only. There are continuous assessments over the period of two semesters and the written examination will be of a duration of 3 hours for a yearly module of 12 LCCS Credits.

Modules in the structure will be run over 10 weeks and carry 6 LCCS Credits. The assessment of such modules will consist of continuous assessment and an examination of a duration of 2 hrs at the end of the semester in which the module is run.

Practical Training (ACF 3000) of at least 3 months' duration must be satisfactorily completed for the award of the degree. This training will be in the form of an industry placement which will expose the students to a work environment setting that will inculcate work place skills and team work which are important in nurturing the employability of graduates. Such requirement may be waived for part-time students currently in employment.
