

THE CONTEXT

A key component of the University's Quality Assurance Framework is the way in which Programmes are designed, approved, monitored and reviewed.

This process ensures that the University's Programmes meet the academic standards set by the University and the various professional and statutory bodies.

These standards are then maintained and monitored via the process of delivery, assessment and review.