

BSc (Hons) Finance (Minor: Law) - LM303

1. Context and Objectives

This Programme is designed for those students seeking to work in the banking & financial services. Moreover, it provides a stepping stone to students who are interested in enrolling on professionally recognised qualifications such as the Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA) programme. The BSc (Hons) Finance (Minor: Law) programme covers both the theoretical and practical approach to issues pertaining to the finance area. A minor in Law is offered to deepen students' knowledge in business law with an added emphasis on investment & financial services legislation. This programme therefore provides an array of fundamental skills spanning finance, accounting, management, law, communication and decision making relevant to the needs of industry.

2. Learning Outcomes

The main learning outcomes are as follows, whereby students are expected to:

- Acquire the knowledge to communicate effectively both orally and in writing;
- Acquire and apply knowledge of finance and law concepts and principles as well as the legal and ethical environment affecting different business sectors;
- Develop the ability to engage in critical thinking when analysing situations and proposing solutions;
- Demonstrate the ability to work effectively both individually and as team members;
- Acquire knowledge on theories and models, techniques and practices that are used in the context of finance; and
- Acquire knowledge on any new or current issues that are important to the Programme of study and students seeking to embark on a career in the finance sector.
- Acquire relevant knowledge on legal aspect pertaining to financial activities.

3. Teaching and Learning Methods

The Programme consists of a combination of teaching, self-study and other learning activities which altogether promote independent learning, critical thinking and above all nurtures student-centric learning across both semester and yearly modules. Teaching methods may include face to face lectures, online delivery, tutorials or practical sessions. Other learning activities can be wide-ranging and may include, amongst others, assignments, class tests, group work, presentations, guest lectures and fieldwork.

A typical semester module will carry 6 LCCS Credits which represent 180 notional learning hours broken down as follows: 30 hours of teaching, 60 hours of self-study and 90 hours of other learning activities.

A typical yearly module will carry 12 LCCS Credits which represent 360 notional hours broken down as follows: 60 hours of teaching, 120 hours of self-study and 180 hours of other learning activities.

7. Assessment and Deadlines

Each module will be assessed over 100 marks (i.e. expressed as %) with details as follows (unless otherwise specified).

Each module will carry 100 marks and will be assessed as follows (unless otherwise specified):

Assessment will be based on a written examination of 2-hour (for a semester module) or 3-hour (for a yearly module) duration and continuous assessment carrying a range of 40% to 50% of total marks.

For all modules taught in semester 1, there will be a compulsory class test during semester 1 of the given academic year unless stated otherwise in the Programme Structure. This is applicable to modules examined at the end of the academic year.

For a student to pass a module, an overall total of 40% for combined continuous assessment and written examination components would be required without minimum thresholds within the individual continuous assessment and written examination.

Most modules in the structure are yearly modules which are taught over a period of two semesters but examined at the end of the second semester only. There are continuous assessments over the period of two semesters and the written examination will be of a duration of 3 hours for a yearly module of 12 LCCS Credits.

The assessment of semester modules will consist of continuous assessment and an examination of a duration of 2 hrs at the end of the semester in which the module is run.

Practical Training (ACF 3000) of at least 4 months' duration must be satisfactorily completed for the award of the degree. This training will be in the form of an industry placement which will expose the students to a work environment setting that will inculcate work place skills and team work which are important in nurturing the employability of graduates.

Submission Deadline for dissertation

Final copy: Not later than the last working day (excluding Saturdays, Sundays and Public Holidays) of March of the academic year by 4.00 p.m. at latest as per regulations.

Termination of Registration
